Last man standing
Spieth survives a wild finish at Chambers Bay to win his 2nd straight major

Jordan Spieth admires the championship trophy after winning the 115th U.S. Open by a single stroke at Chambers Bay on Sunday. Spieth finished at 5 under par.

10-page special section inside Video and more photos at thenewstribune.com

WHAT'S INSIDE • Classified, CI • Comics, C5 • Greenwood, C8 • Lottery, B5 • Movies, B6 • Television, C4 • WEATHER • Morning clouds will clear. High: 73. Low: 53.

Slimy stuff:
There’s nothing sluggish about Northwest Trek’s annual Slugfest, June 27 and 28. The celebration of the Pacific banana slug — the second largest terrestrial slug, with lengths up to 10 inches — includes human slug races, a photo booth with props and more.

FIND OUT MORE: www.SouthSoundTogether.com @SouthSoundTogether /SouthSoundTogether /SouthSoundTogether

This South Sound highlight is brought to you by the South Sound Together partnership.

1 797865-01

DREW PERINE • Staff photographer

Jordan Spieth admires the championship trophy after winning the 115th U.S. Open by a single stroke at Chambers Bay on Sunday. Spieth finished at 5 under par.